

Ikebana: The Art of Japanese Flower Arrangement

Secondary

Travel the journey of Japanese mythology and its influence on the exotic world of flowers as Professor Asifa Ataka shares her knowledge and experience of Ikebana with your children.

So much more than simply putting flowers in a container, Ikebana is a disciplined art form which enhances understanding about harmony in the elements of life. Children will develop and discover their affiliations with nature as they take home a beautiful arrangement after every class.

All flowers for this aesthetic venture will be provided by the school, however, parents are invited and encouraged to provide containers as per their personal home settings.
